For sore throat and pains in the chest there is no medicine that gives relief so quickly and does so much good as Halpruner's Pain Remover. There is nothing like it to drive pain and inflammation from the body—it does it so quickly a d it does not do you any harm.

Rub Halpruner's Pain Remover into the pores of the skin of the throat and chest, also take a tablespoonful in a wine glass of water or milk every hour—you won't have to take it long.

Don't let the druggist talk you out of Halpruner's. It is prescribed and compounded to cure your ills and is a medicine you ought to have. Demand the genuine—50c and $1 a bottle—28 California St., San Francisco.

"TO THE PUBLIC—I suffered with a severe sore throat four days after the opera 'Theodora' at the Tivoli Opera House. I used Dr. Halpruner's Pain Remover as a gargle and to bath my neck, and found instant relief; in fact, I was almost immediately cured and was able to continue my role in the opera."

CROOK MAKES AN EIGHT DAY RUN

Transport New to This Port Arrives With Mail and Troops.

The transport Crook arrived from San Francisco early yesterday morning with two days' later mail and news. The weather coming down was fine and nothing more exciting occurred on board than a case or two of mumps among the soldiers. The Grant, Alaskan and Sonoma were sighted, between here and San Francisco. The vessel sailed from the Coast on April 21.

The Crook has on board the second battalion of the Eleventh Infantry, a few recruits, forty-one hospital corps men and sixty-six cabin passengers. Among the latter are the officers in charge of the troops, officers on special duty and officers on their way to join commands, a few schoolteachers and some civilian Government employes.

The cabin passengers are:
Officers accompanying Eleventh Infantry—Major J. B. Jackson, Captain J. S. Emery, W. T. Wilder, H. R. Lee, J. W. Heavey, Lieutenant S. G. Chiles, J. W. Farley, W. M. Parker, O. R. Booth, G. R. Crawford, S. T. Mackall, A. O. Seaman, G. L. Johnson.

Major J. N. Henry, surgeon, U. S. V., commanding detachment hospital corps men to Manila, and Lieutenant J. P. Robinson, artillery corps, commanding and accompanying Honolulu detachment.

Contract Surgeons E. B. Bailey, E. T. Wilson, W. E. Hall, C. A. Warwick. Mrs. J. C. O'Donnell, Mrs. Frank Woodbury, J. W. Desmond, Mrs. Edith Quackenbush, Mrs. C. M. Stanifer, A. H. Kennedy, C. W. Stine, W. Ware, S. S. Carothers, J. H. Thigpen, S. A. Harvey, H. T. Schildroth, M. D., Mrs. Garrett O'Reilly and child, S. C. Williamson, Mrs. L. Barbeau and two children, H. G. Depatz, C. W. Dorsey, wife and child; P. H. Loughran, Mrs. John H. Voss, E. H. Fogarty, Mrs. H. R. Lee, Captain John P. Hains, Lieutenant H. L. James, D. W. Chamberlain, V. M. Elmore, D. A. Snyder, A. H. Hickox, Captain W. K. Jones, wife and two children; Mrs. H. L. James, Professor J. M. Wilson, Miss S. Kennedy and sister, G. W. Gannon and wife, Major P. R. Eagan, W. Lynch, wife and two children.

The Crook brought five members of the hospital corps to Honolulu and has on board thirty-six of the same service for Manila. The Eleventh Infantry men number 411.

The transport landed about seventy-five tons of supplies for the local garrison. She is coaling at Navy wharf No. 1 and will sail for Manila direct this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Concerning passengers aboard the Crook, the following appeared in a recent issue of the San Francisco Call: "Prominent among the departing officers was Captain J. P. Hains of the Artillery Corps. Captain Hains is well known in local society circles, and has the reputation in the service of being a smart artillery engineer. He is famous apart from that, however, as being one of the few American army officers daring enough to appear before his men in khaki breeches cut in all the extreme of tightness and looseness prescribed by the British school of riding. He rides, however, with a long stirrup, never drops an 'H,' and is classed by the ladies as 'cute.'"

Among the passengers was Miss Edith Quackenbush, who goes to the Philippines to marry a schoolteacher. The Crook is commanded by Captain Walcott, a nephew of W. N. Armstrong and Mrs. Weaver of the Lunalia Home.

Chief Officer Boyce and Chief Engineer Williams are prominent officers of the big transport. Williams, according to the captain, is a remarkably clever engineer, for the rather antiquated engines of the transport have, under his care, performed unexpectedly good work. The transport quartermaster on the Crook is Captain Thomas Swobe. The Crook has a length of 430.6, breadth of 47 feet and depth of 26.6, with a net tonnage of 2703. The vessel has twin screws and four masts.

Broke the Record.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—After a record-breaking voyage from the Orient, the steamer Doric of the Occidental and Oriental line arrived in port today, two days ahead of her scheduled time. The record broken by the Doric was on the run between Yokohama and this port. She took 28 days and 17 hours to make the run from Hongkong, 15 days 19 hours and 18 minutes from Yokohama and 5 days and 17 hours from Honolulu.

HAYDN BROWN AFTER MANY DAYS

The overdue bark Haydn Brown arrived from Newcastle yesterday afternoon, after a long and tiresome trip of eighty-two days, and moored alongside Allen & Robinson's wharf.

Captain Arpland reports a succession of head winds and calms which delayed the old boat greatly. Land was sighted over a week ago.

The Haydn Brown came in with her mainyard on the starboard side spliced. It cracked in a sudden squall before there was time to get the sheet in.

The bark's cargo consists of 1130 tons of coal, consigned to the Hawaiian Electric Light Company. Captain Arpland has his wife and two little daughters aboard. The only vessel sighted throughout the long voyage was the bark Pactolus, which arrived here on Sunday last. The Haydn Brown will sail from here to the Sound in ballast.
